6,000 Head Herd Established On Recent Purchase

New Capital Adds Substantially To Glades Cattle Industry

A background of study and research in trace elements at the American Museum of Natural History sharpened the interest of a retired industrialist to the point of combining capital, science and practical knowledge with much lands in establishing a 6,000 head herd in the Glades as soon as possible.

R. E. McDonnell's professional and business efforts had brought him along a tedious route involving varied industrial fields which include engineering orders from mother earth and directorships in a score of manufacturing and distributing organizations when he retired to his winter home on Hobe Sound.

On his journeys to and from summer resorts in Canada, time was taken to view and review activities on his several farms and ranches on the plains of Virginia and in the foothills of Maryland.

His pride of ownership and accomplishment on a 1,000-acre ranch in Virginia carrying 300 head of Angus purchased was shaken when persistent rumors of two-to-an-acre milk lands producing from 1200 lbs. to a ton of beef annually, was vociferously proclaimed in the best chamber of Commerce fashion.

His trained analytical mind led him immediately to "assay" this reported "black gold"; his visit to the Everglades Experiment Station, the lifted eyebrow of the doctored Virginian when he was shown a piglet carrying 2½ head of calves. He emerged in approvingly, indignantly, reluctant, grunt when shown five year records of 1800 pounds of beef per acre under laboratory conditions at the Southern grass. He found Florida's, natives of all states, except PH.D., said.

Shootin' Blanks

Thoughts are pin pointed on the presidential election to come up in 1952, but not to be waited for it and want to do something about a change right now.

Whatever opinions might be regarding the presidential seat, everyone will agree that the election should stir up a little excitement.

But meanwhile an election has taken place in our own home town which could vie with that of any president. In fact this one was probably the most outstanding ever to go down in our local history.

The hard run races were for officers of lawlifter and Lion tamer in the local Lions Club. Candidates in some cases resorted to the lowest form of trickery to entice votes from the membership.

Why, Ed Lively was even trying to buy votes with $100. And when a banker follows out money with no strings attached, things are desperate. There was one string tied to the money, that being the bill was not good in any place in the United States or abroad. The greenbacks contained in Ed's sack sat idle weren't Uncle Sam's, and they didn't pay off.

Labor Shortage Slows Harvests

The area labor shortage may take up where the refrigerated car scarcity left off in causing crops to wither in the fields. As the corn deal hit a peak this week, the shortage was especially acute, growers say.

Local market prices were: corn, U. S. fancy, $2.25 to $2.75; crate, U. S. $1.25 to $2.50; cabbage, 40 to $1.10; celery, $1.50 to $2.25; golden, $2.25 to $2.50.

Peppers brought $2.25 to $2.50, chile $1.50 and escarole $1.50.

Carloadings ended April 25 were:

FOUR KILLED IN HEAD-ON ACCIDENT SATURDAY P.M.

Four Negroes from South Shore Sugar Plantation were killed Saturday about 2:20 p.m., and one was fatally injured in a highway accident on SR 80 about a mile and a half east of the Hendry County Line.

All four occupants of the Clewiston car were injured. Jake Thomas, 34, suffered a fractured skull and died a few hours later in the Clewiston Hospital. Beaton fractured both ankles and Willie Clifford Maffie, 31, received very serious lacerations of the face. About 100 prize fat cattle entries brought top-of-the-market prices when approximately 100 FFA, 4-H and adult exhibitors from 11 south Florida counties participated in the two-day show and sale including junior judging and showmanship contests and educational demonstrations.

The twelve steers sold grossed $2,822 on a weight of 7,695 pounds, for an average of $36.40 per hundred weight.

Auctioneer C. E. Beebe of Lake Worth sold a 505 pound Angus steer at 35 cents of Clifford Crosby, Miami, to the Glades Livestock Market. Angus steers, 60 pounds, 38 cents; of J. ## Defunct Group Has $1,309 Local Funds

Mrs. Nell Scullen, as treasurer of a defunct organization, reported before the commission Wednesday night that $1309 was left in the account and would be applied to a community project.

The money was originally collected from packing house employees for the past two years. The money center day nursery which was later taken over by the government, Mrs. Scullen said. The money was also marked for building a crippled children's clinic. The organization has not held one annual meeting for the past two years, Mrs. Scullen said. She suggested that the money be applied to the swimming pool fund.

The fund was being instructed to check the organization charter and get in touch with the directors before disposition of the funds would be determined.

Commissioners Walter Ashby and M. D. Lloyd brought up the pending need for additional jail space. They pointed out that the need for more space occurs each year at this time. City Engineer B. W. Williams was instructed to estimate the cost of erecting a second story on the jail building.

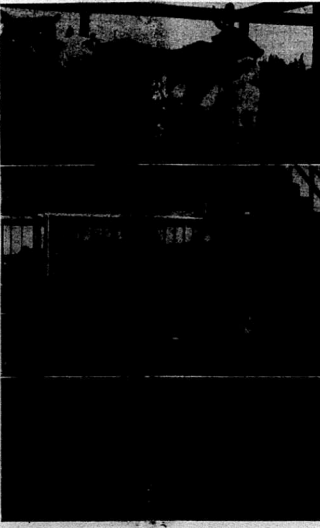

A letter from Nathan Mayo, commissioner of agriculture, acknowledged the commission's proposal to name a section of the city port, Mayo Park. He requested that instead a plaque there dedicated it to trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund.

The canal side park will be named Buck Park in memory of Dr. William J. Buck, commissioner. Following the 1928 hurricane Dr. Buck supervised the burning of bodies on the site.

The council is seeking donations of the face. Robert Lee Peterson received fractured ribs, bruises of the body and lacerations of the head. Dudley Johnson had fractured ribs and lacerations.

BLOOD DOES TELL

The top picture is a distinguished group. Everglades Nathan is the sire, Miss Van is the dam and peering cautiously with an ear cocked towards the ground is Mrs. Everglades Dwight — all of Imperial Brahman strain. Everglades Nathan is a product of the Experiment Station; Miss Van is of the VanLandingham-Mothers branch of Brahman royalty. The lady in the middle picture is a debutante of royal blood displayed by her owner James Farquhar of Ft. Lauderdale. She belongs to the square-jawed short-legged and short-necked beef type Angus.

This young lady waited off the recent show as Grand Champion here of the beef type.

The bottom picture is of three animals whose life has been forfeited to the cross between the two royal families represented above, and no harm to the steer calf.

Fritz Stein, owner of the three steers, will fit his deep-freeze with part of one and allow some other lucky Glades citizens to enjoy the other steers.

Marriages between royal blood lines are very desirable, but every rancher cannot afford this; but morganic crosses (royal blood with the plebeian or proletarian) were emphasized at the recent show held at the Mayo Building.

Some Brahman for the climate and European beef type to square up the body, shorten the legs and neck is indicated as an ideal Glades animal for beef.

and to the Gulf Stream Council which is responsible for organization and administration of scouting in this area.

The council maintains and operates the summer boy scout camp at Lake Osborne which opens in June. It is attended by about 500 scouts of the county.

Stating that the area had been behind in its quota for the last two years, Herring emphasized the importance of a successful drive this year.

"The money spent today for scouting will build our leaders of tomorrow into the type of men we need."

The scout program has proved to be a citizenship builder among young boys as shown by the fact that no single Scout has the highest rank, has ever been convicted of a major crime in the United States. Military leaders praise the program for its constructive in fitting boys for the armed services.

Local Youths Face Charges Of Theft

Eight Belle Glade High School boys were charged with cattle stealing Thursday, according to the report of Sheriff John Kirk.

Deputy Sheriff Gibb Gross started preliminary investigation here when a theft of four yearlings from a local farmer was reported by one of them.

He discovered that the cattle were taken from the pasture and placed in a pasture at Okeechobee City. When Gross started checking in Okeechobee City, the boys explained the cattle in original pastures.

"All the boys are first offenders," Gross said. "They come from good families, everyone of them."

They will appear in criminal court Tuesday. Since cattle are valued at between $75 and $100 a head, the charges will be grand larceny.

Gross reported another case of theft here by a ring of youths. One was a local boy and four are from Wauchula, Gross stated.

They were charged with dismantling and stealing parts of a truck owned by Mrs. Wedgworth Timmons. Tried Tuesday in criminal court, one pleaded guilty and two not guilty. The judge is withholding sentence on the one pleading guilty and two are being held here as material witnesses.

MEMORIAL

The Glades paid tribute Thursday to the memory of its first casualty in the renewed world struggle between the religious and non-religious factions of the world!

Private first-class Sidney T. Prescott's funeral service was participated in by the military, the public official, the butcher the baker and the ordinary citizen, and still tribute was not inclusive enough.

Why must this boy — for he's only 20 — and others like him be sacrificed? The answer is crystal clear, and they believe in any religion, for the enemy is not only non-religious, but practices fronted anti-religion! Whatever faith you have in your church, your religion, or your God it must make you stop and think about the future.

If the death of this boy entices you to serious thought about the meaning of all this, then in measure it has accomplished something. If you indifferently accept this death as just another war casualty, your community and nation would have been better served had it been you.

Prescott died a hero just as much as his fellow fighting for the very existence of this country as did any man at Valley Forge, Solis or the Bulge!

That Prescott died serving us all is the honor of his family and his friends; the die where and how he died, was not yours and yours alone. It was a tragedy that might prove serious consideration following communion, with yourself and on your knees to a Higher Authority!

Safe Landings, Sidney, and thanks a million: The Glades will not allow your trip to have been in vain.

This mixed car distribution and other modern changing concepts of processing and distribution related to a new open policy of planning for the future.

The other piece extends 860 feet. It is the widest open space and runs back to the railroad.

STATE RABBIT ASSN. Continued From Page One is certified. "In California several counties have an assistant to the County Agent whose sole job is working with the rabbit breeders — that is one reason why rabbits produce the third largest industry in the state.

There's no reason why this County can't support this industry to a production of hundreds of thousands of dollars of meat annually. That is especially so because of the great possibilities of feed production from the much larger rabbit.

"Miami imports from California rabbit meat by the carload and West Palm Beach uses an average of 300 animals per week."

Belle Glade has an opportunity with this first meeting of the state-wide association to demonstrate hospitality that will bring other such meetings here. Mr. Haney is demonstrating his belief in the Glades, and the community should back him up.

6,000 HEAD HERD (Continued from page 1) tually insisting on these facts in-tru-facture and conceding with an "inter-est-ing-tru-e" reservation that he best interested further.

He frequently interrupted the local Realtor who guided him to the "bays" of the community by statements interspersed with question marks indicating lessening resistance until he found himself defending that mental attitude, to the glee of the real estate man.

Having settled tentatively the 3,000 acre tract of the W.B.H. Ranch suggested a vehicle for his proposed efforts, he engaged a local firm of engineers to place an ideal water control and roadway lay-out and compare it with installed facilities; the engaged professional advice to the grasses already planted and to advise on proposed forage as well as operation plans; he advised himself on sources of animals as well as on the comparative economic advantages of fence fattening and "she-stuff" ranching here.

With a well-ordered and controlled calm he appeared punctually at a rendezvous with the anxious Realtor and the seller and negotiated effectively long enough for the Realtor to find himself sticking to the upholstery from perspiration, on a cool day.

When a mutually agreeable tract had been effected, the "real estate peddler" sought confirmation of the effectiveness of his salesmanship, deflation set in, for Mr. Salesman found that the buyer had reasons for buying, not complimentary to his salesmanship, but to Nature's gift to the Okaloosa region — muck and sun.

Here's the gentleman's reasons: "Well, I'll tell you. Nowhere else in the United States can you find pasture that will carry year-round 2 to 2½ head of cattle per acre to a fat condition. My 1,000 acre ranch in Virginia is equal to the best there is and I carry 300 head of cattle. They're heavier animals, of a heavier breed, but not more pounds per acre — and that land's worth $150 per acre."

"There are 80,000,000 cattle in the U. S. and that's not enough for our own use, forgetting what we might contribute to other peoples. With possibilities offered on this muck lands with finances available, I most certainly would not feel that I was doing my part as a good citizen if I did not combine the opportunity with the finances necessary and increase production."

"I expect to complete the improvement of this tract and stock it to capacity; I expect to add to the meat production of our country, and at a profit."

Needling and bantering, Fred Stevens to the state band contest in May. These students placed in the recent district competition. The group also voted to purchase five new small uniforms for next year.

Stores in the city closed briefly during the services here Thursday afternoon.

The young soldier was killed September 12 in the Taegu sector, according to word received September 29 by his mother, Mrs. Ann Prescott, Osceola Camp.

Prescott visited his mother here on furlough last July and had been in Korea about 30 days before his death. His mother received a letter from him about two weeks previous saying he was fighting in the Taegu sector.

During the family's six year residence here, Prescott worked as delivery boy for Western Union. He was a member of the National Guards when transferred to the army where he served with the First Cavalry, 7th regiment.

RDB DRIVE WITHIN 50 PER CENT OF QUOTA

Approximately $1,500 have been collected so far in the County Resources and Development Board drive here, reports Emmett Roberts, Glades RDB drive chairman.

This brings the area to within 50 per cent of the drive goal.

We hope to meet the quota within the next two weeks and judging by the excellent response we've had so far, we probably will," Roberts says.

Support of the RDB is especially important now with many measures in the legislature which are beneficial to the end of the county needing pushing, according to Roberts.

BEFORE BUYING PLANTS FROM OUT-OF-STATE, BE SURE ABOUT THEM

If you cannot obtain the kind of plants you want from a Florida nursery, be sure the out-of-state nursery from which you order them, is reliable and sells only inspected and certified plants.

J. C. Goodwin, State Plant Board nursery inspector, offers that suggestion to all rural and city folks, and his reasons for making it merit the attention and consideration of anyone who is thinking about buying nursery plants. First, he points out, some Florida people have been disappointed on "Bargain" offers of plants, and, second, buying uninspected and uncertified plants from out-of-state concerns may result in bringing in a pest that is not here now.

It is all right to buy plants from concerns in other states provided the purchaser knows what he's getting and the plants are inspected and certified. There have been cases, however, in which buyers ordered plants from other states and received, legally speaking, exactly the number and kinds they ordered, yet they were very much disappointed with what they got.

For this reason, the Plant Board inspector explains, the buyer should know about the concern selling the plants and what to expect for his money. If he doesn't know these things, he is taking a chance on being very much disappointed.

The purchaser also should be sure the plants he orders from out of the state will have a chance to grow in Florida, as numerous plants that grow fine in other states do not do well here. If he has any doubts about a particular species, it is advisable for him to see his county agent about it.

The reason — avoiding the danger of bringing pests into the state — is highly important.

to the purchaser and to the whole state. Several plant diseases that are present in some other states are not in Florida, and the Plant Board endeavors to bar these diseases by inspection and certification, but it needs the cooperation of others. An inspected and certified plant is free of such pests, but an uninspected and uncertified plant may not be free of them.

Thus the buyer who investigates before he buys plants from out-of-state nurseries is protecting his own money and helping to protect Florida crops from pests that are not in the state now, Mr. Goodwin says.

FFVA-TO Hold Convention Oct. 3-5, In Miami Beach

Popular demand based on the convenience to exhibitors, members and guests attending last year's FFVA convention was a prime factor influencing the decision of the Board of Directors in electing to return to the Sherry Frontenac for the 1951 Convention, according to Luther L. Chandler, Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association chairman.

"All Under One Roof" is the justified claim of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association in describing the location of the Eighth Annual Convention of the Association to be held at the Sherry Frontenac Hotel in Miami Beach on October 3, 4, and 5.

Feminine FLORIDA

DORIS DANIEL

I received an interesting note in the mail the other day from Justine Adolph at the Miami YMCA. It concerned my March 15 column about slenderizing our figures. The note said, "You are so right about the proper diet being necessary, but don't you think moderate exercise should be included in the program to firm the muscles and prevent that 'worn-out feeling'?" Rated highest among the corrective exercises is swimming. It helps remove the unwanted flesh from the hips, thighs and waist and helps to firm the arms and increase the breast measure. Of course, we can't all look like Jane Russell, but at least we can try."

I certainly agree with Justine Adolph about exercise being an essential part of your slimming program. Even if you have a slyph-like form exercise keeps you feeling in top notch shape. Besides, here in Florida where we are constantly exposed to water, it is almost a necessity that we know how to swim. It is surprising to note the number of people who come to the Sunshine State who don't know how to swim. This is where the YMCA swim program has achieved its greatest success.

The time is long past when swimming lessons are confined to the younger set. Retired folks who have never had time to learn how to swim are having the time of their lives enjoying one of the most healthful and enjoyable sports in the world. It is never too late to learn how to swim and enjoy yourself at the same time.

On the other hand youngsters, from the time they learn to walk, are taking up swimming. In this instance really is a necessity that our Florida youngsters know how to handle themselves in water and it is surprising how easily they take Hit's a big 'un, Judge, and you've got him by the teeth to prove your story. The evidence, a ten pound bass caught at the tip of Kraemer Island in Lake Okeechobee by Judge Joseph White of the Fifteenth Judicial Circuit of Florida, should be enough to convince any jury that Okeechobee waters are happy fishing grounds and that the Judge did himself proud.

And for those of you who have a few extra blubs here and there, these huckle yourself right down to your YMCA and enroll in their Adult Class. In fact, make a family affair of it, the most healthful and enjoyable sports in existence.

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Kay

Some time ago Governor Warren took a stand in opposition to increased appropriations and more taxes and his courageous action in the face of imperative demands from most all agencies of government for more money met with warm public approval.

Recently the State Democratic Committee took a similar stand in a strongly worded resolution. It is unusual indeed for a State political committee to take such action toward its own party and is commendable, and evidences clear thinking on the part of committed members.

The resolution is worthy of study and careful thought on the part of every citizen. It reads as follows:

"WHEREAS the total direct and indirect taxes paid by the people of Florida to the Federal Government for the year 1950 was approximately $450 million dollars, which will be increased to more than $500 million dollars in 1951, as a result of additional taxes for national defense, and

"WHEREAS the taxes collected in 1950 by the State of Florida and for the counties, cities, schools, and other local governmental units amounted to approximately $375 million dollars, and

"WHEREAS virtually every state department, bureau, commission, institution and agency of the state government has asked the State Budget Commission for increased budgets and apparently will attempt to lobby and 'high pressure' the legislature into increasing their appropriations in spite of the following pertinent facts:

1. All state departments, bureaus and agencies operated in the 1945 Biennium on a total appropriation of $103,059,850, but appropriations were increased in the 1947 Biennium to $180,860,193 and again increased in 1949 to a total of $240,525,646 an increase of 133% in a four year period.

2. It is apparent that without any further increase in state taxes the Federal Government, the State Government, the Counties, Cities and Schools will spend approximately one-third of the income of every citizen in Florida in the year of 1951.

"WHEREAS the favorite propaganda and alibi of those promoting increased spending is that 'the public is demanding increased governmental services.' That is not true—the minorities who spend or profit from government spending do the demanding, the great majority who pay are too busy making ends meet to protest, and

"WHEREAS another favorite trick of the spenders is to challenge the proponents of economy to tell them where expenditures can be cut. Obviously no citizen or group of citizens has information or facilities to make up a state budget. They can see the over-all picture but cannot do the detail job. That is the duty of the legislature.

They asked for the job when seeking election, they should perform their duty to the people, not try to shift the responsibility back to the people, and

"WHEREAS excessive taxation can destroy our nation, our state and the American way of life. The danger point has been reached if not already passed.

"THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the State Democratic Executive Committee in special session this 17th day of March 1951:

1. That we call upon all elected administrative officials of the state, counties, schools and the cities to re-examine their operating budgets and eliminate all non-essential public expenditures, and that there will be no increase in total operating expenditures, and that there will be decreases to the extent of every non-essential expenditure.

2. We call upon the members of the Florida Legislature to hold the 1951 appropriation bill to a total not exceeding the $240 million dollars appropriated by the 1949 legislature less the approximately 10% of that appropriation that has been withheld by the State Budget Commission as a result of unavailable funds, a net total of $216 million dollars, and to reduce expenditures wherever possible through consolidation of departments or functions and the elimination of unnecessary personnel and operating expenses.

3. We pledge the legislature the support of this committee in the above objectives.

4. The secretary of this committee is hereby directed to

THE TOY DEER

Smallest of North American deer is the toy deer, found on some of the lower Keys of Florida. No bigger than a large dog, the toy deer is one of the most interesting animals in the state. It is now in danger of extinction, for only a small herd remains, the others having been killed off by hunters and poachers. Conservationists are making an effort to have a small, uninhabited portion of the Keys set aside as a sanctuary for this attractive little creature. ## MANY SUGGESTIONS FOR FLA. LICENSE SLOGAN

A heavy statewide response to the opening of the Florida Publicity and Public Relations Association contest to pick a slogan for possible use on 1953 Florida license tags has brought over 800 suggestions into contest headquarters in Sarasota in the first six days of the contest, according to Bill Wells, contest chairman.

Although limited to three words, contestants have proven voluble, with one eager entrant sending in 40 slogans. Entry subjects are quite diversified with suggestions ranging from "Happy Hunting Ground" to a coy "Love That State."

Contest winners are wondering whether an enterprising native or a disgruntled visitor is responsible for "Soak The Tourists." "Abolish Speed Traps" seems to veil a complaint, but many contestants was poetic with such ideas as "Warm As Wine," "Isle of Dreams," "Land of Romance," "Where Nature Smiles," "Orange Blossom State" and "Land of Flowers."

A less dreamy individual suggests "55,000 Homestead Exemption" as a realistic enticement, with emphasis on the old folks noted by such slogans as "Land of Longevity," "Birthdays Are Forgotten," "Social Security State," and "You Got Time."

Sunshine and recreation are the subjects getting the biggest response, with several eloquent pleas for reinstatement of "The Sunshine State" received. "The Playground State," "Vacation With Play," "Everybody's Playground," "The Nation's Sun-parlor," "Where Sunshine Reigns," and "The Sunbelt State" are among the fun and sun entries.

Evidently products of fertile imaginations are such slogans as "The Union's Utopia," "Booming and Blooming," "The President's Choice" and the simple but sensible query "Why Shovel Snow?"

Contest chairman Wells is puzzling over a letter reading, "Seen the ad in the magazine? I don't know if I understand it right or not. So I am sending three words: 'Lord-Air-Raid'!" The disarming attempt having failed, Wells is hastening a communication to the entrant explaining the contest and venturing the opinion that he "didn't understand it right."

THAMES GOES TO NAT. CHEMICALS ASSOC. MEET

Walter H. Thames, Jr., assistant entomologist, represented the Everglades Experiment Station at the National Agricultural Chemicals Association meetings in Miami recently. The program for the first day of the three-day meet was devoted to a review of benefits to agriculture and advances in the use of agricultural chemicals.

Willard M. Fifield, director of the Florida Agricultural Experiment Stations, was guest speaker at the luncheon following the morning meetings.

He discussed organization of the experiment station system in Florida and reviewed Florida Agriculture for the last 20 years. Pointing out the possibility of biological warfare in this country should total war come, he emphasized imporance of research to cope with such a situation.

He said that in any prolonged war the enemy might be expected to attempt destruction of farm crops and livestock by introducing harmful insect pests and plant diseases.

"Main line of defense against biological warfare would be the efficient use of agricultural chemicals," Fifield said. He suggested better training of farmers and livestock people in the use of these chemicals.
